

UKIAH ALLEYS Walking Route

Route  Alley

This 3.0 mile loop features most of the alleys of Ukiah's historic west side. The alleys were originally designed for trash pick-up, but now provide a nice walking route that is virtually car free. The alleys are unmarked and you will need to remain alert so as not to miss them. This map labels the alleys by the names of the two streets that parallel the alley. So, for example, the Willow/Walnut alley runs parallel to and between Willow Avenue and Walnut Avenue. The alleys are open to vehicle traffic but seldom see vehicles except for the occasional residential delivery. The alleys are off the beaten path and you will be isolated while on them. Dogs are fenced but can be noisy. Ukiah has a very low crime rate and there is no history of crime along these alleys. However, if you are uncomfortable in an isolated setting, this route may not suit you. On the other hand, the alleys provide a glimpse into a bygone era when life was simpler and slower, and when walking was a more common means of travel.
