      Member Rich, and Member Pekin.
   ii. The other two terms that are ending this year are the ones to be filled by Richard Towle and Lynn Finley, but since it is so late in the year, Behavioral Health Director Jenine Miller will be looking to see if the newly filled positions can be rolled over to the next term, instead of ending so quickly.
   iii. For existing members that are looking to Board Action: Vote to approve the updated version of the Member Roster as the official roster of BHAB. Motion by Member Martinez, seconded by Vice-Chair Strachan. Vote passed unanimously.

• The budget is a plan (estimate) on the cost to provide mental health services and the estimate of revenue that will be brought in. We can estimate the expected revenue, but we cannot predict what will be billed or paid by the state.

• Vice-Chair Strachan asked where the money comes from that covers the delta between cost of services and reimbursement that we receive. Behavioral Health Director Jenine Miller responded that it comes out of Realignment, MHSA, and Medi-Cal dollars. There was some discussion on Federal dollars and where they come from.

• Member Ortiz asked if the County was providing Substance Use Disorders Treatment (SUDT) services themselves. Behavioral Health Director Jenine Miller responded that the County is doing majority of the services, but there is a contract with RQMC for the Transitional Aged Youth (TAY) services. A data breakdown between Adult and Children’s services was requested.

• Member Lockart asked if it was possible to provide a high-level view of what the actual budget looks like for Mental Health, simplified enough that the members could discuss when asked by the outside community.

• There was an explanation on how the federal matching works in the budget.

• Behavioral Health Director Jenine Miller explained the mental health budget is a make-up of Realignment funds, MHSA funds, and Medi-Cal reimbursement for billable services.

6. Innovation Update (Karen Lovato):

• Acting Deputy Director Karen Lovato stated the project is approaching a year from the date the Round Valley Innovation Project was approved to create Round Valley Crisis Response services. An annual report is due to the Oversight and Accountability Committee (OAC) a year from the date of the first fund expenditure, but due to regulation changes, the due date was moved to the end of Fiscal Year 19/20. The report is currently being worked on and we are having discussions with the stakeholders regarding the successes and milestones that have been achieved up to this point. The focus of the project was to increase access to crisis services with the community, to address to cultural distrust between the local community and the county, and to create a unique crisis response service by coming together and offering a more natural, culture-based services.

• There are local providers attending the meetings, but there has been a push to get more of the local community involved.

- There have been several issues with getting staff hired, but Gerilynn Reeves, the new Project Manager on the project, will be starting soon.
- We have been moving forward on the process of gaining and building trust between the community and the County. The County is looking into better ways to measure the progress that is being made.
- The biggest concern with the stakeholders is that they want to make sure the project is sustainable after the grant is gone; they transitional youth project that was previously in this building ended up not being sustainable and had to close.
- There was some discussion around some additional milestones, but everything is currently moving forward at the expected rate.
- The measuring of trust has been discussed with stakeholders, as having them fill out surveys is not effective. If you look at the words being used and the community involvement as a whole, you can see many positive changes and attitudes throughout; monitoring sentiment may be an effective way to measure the progress we are making and show the change in the trust and collaborations.
- Supervisor Croskey stated that she had toured the building recently and that it was looking great.
- Member Lockart asked what flexibility was written into the Innovation Grant. Karen responded that the proposal approved by OAC has a budget outlined over the 3 years of the project. Within each category in the budget there is some flexibility to how the funds can be used, but the funds cannot be moved into the other categories. If any changes to the amounts of funds required for the project are required, the project must go back before the OAC to provide a justification for the increase.
- Member Lockart expressed her concern as a public interest. Mental health issues, intergenerational trauma, and murdering for land is still here. There needs to be people who can make quality decisions; the County should portion out sections of the project and walk those involved through it. The tribal community has not been provided the same opportunities to gain knowledge the ins and outs of the business related issues in the project. The community needs to grow, learn, and heal.
- Member Ortiz asked if the fiscal report was based on the current fiscal year or calendar year. It was requested that a written summary report on the project be provided to BHAB in addition to or instead of just a verbal report.
Acting Deputy Director Karen Lovato stated that once the report is prepared, Bhab would receive a copy

- A member of the public stated that they were impressed with the project and that it is actually happening. There are probably other large counties with tribal population that could also benefit from this type of project.
- Project 2 & 3
  - There was discussion around reversion and MHSA funds.
  - A reversion plan was created for all of the unused funds that were at risk of reverting back to the state.
  - The first project took much longer than anticipated, so the second and third projects had to go into the reversion plan.
  - Details are still being discussed with the stakeholders, but the second project is a Weekend Wellness Center that will assist clients in developing social skill sets on the weekends, outside of the existing services they are utilizing to help keep them healthy and lessen the frequency that intensive services are needed.
  - The third project will be technology focused. Technology is a key area that we need more development, such as the use of computer programs and Virtual Reality (VR) for treatment. Apps and games are very familiar in society today; this technology be utilized to help people learn life skills or reduce anxiety in a manner that they are already adept in. We are looking at ways that we could implement to improve services using this approach.
  - The County is contracting with a consultant, Nancy Callahan, to draft a proposal for the each project.

• RQMC works with the county to place conserved clients; they are responsible for clients that are 25 or younger.
• RQMC is currently working with the Willow Terrace Project and will provide them with a list of clients that are to be referred.
• RQMC brought on J. Holden in July to provide oversight of the conserved placements.
• Whole Person Care (WPC) is a collaborative effort with clinics Hillside Coast Clinic and MCHC. Wellness Coaches have been hired and doing great things to help clients.
• Becky Wilson from RQMC brought copies of referral and intake forms that are currently being used for the WPC program. The referral form shows the criteria required for the people to participate in the program. RQMC works with 5 different agencies and has wellness coaches working directly with clients for things such as getting to appointments, navigating the system, help coordinate with other providers, etc.
• There was discussion regarding a patient’s story. They were the highest user of services in the county and with the help of WPC was able to be housed and stabilized.
• There are currently 187 clients enrolled in WPC, 90% of which are homeless. They offer temporary hotel housing, which helps them to get rested and clean prior to court appearance, surgeries, doctor appointments, family visits, job interviews, and many other situations that may arise; the hotel stays help them to have the tools they need to work on their goals and continue their recovery. Tim thanked the County for creating the program.
• Chair McGourty asked if WPC was included on the Data Dashboard and if it will be added in the future?
• Tim responded that RQMC has asked for the program data for the services being performed and the cost of hospitalizations, but that information is not included in the Data Dashboard.
• The pilot program has a limit of 200 clients, 10 Wellness Coaches each with a 20-client caseload.
• WPC is a 5 Year grant, which is currently on year 3.
• Sustainability is a major concern that RQMC is looking at closely to find a way to make it work after the grant funds are no longer available.

Project Review – RCS Orchard Street Crisis Stabilization, Residential, Etc.:
• Acting Deputy Director Karen Lovato discussed the services provided by CSUs and CRUs.
• There was discussion on the SB82 grant funds which were to be used to fund the implementation of a 10-bed Crisis Residential Treatment (CRT) Program.

- The funds are still at the state level, none of the grant money has been issued to the County at this time.
- The County and Redwood Community Services spent $382,000 to purchase the property that will used for the project and that amount will be paid for using the grant once it is available to access; so far no other funds from the SB82 grant have been allocated.

  - Member Ortiz recommends the CRU and CSU option. Chair McGourty stated that she wants to examine other venues/possible sites other than the old Howard Hospital or Orchard Street.
  - Member Ferretta recommended that BHAB make three recommendations to the BOS on the three items that have been discussed up to this point and then provide recommendations on the remaining items at a later date.
  - Member Ortiz does not agree that the CSU and CRU should be in the same place, does agree that an Intensive Day Treatment Program is needed.
  - Member Martinez stated that it was a heavy topic and there should be another special meeting to discuss it. If this was to happen, it would need to happen before November 6th. The Special Meeting will take place on Monday the 29th from 1pm to 4pm.
