02/19/2019	Anthony J. Billy	Porter	M DUI	Guilty
02/25/2019	Crystal M.R. Lockhart	Guest	F Criminal Threats	Guilty

<sup>1</sup> On January 15, 2019, the defendant admitted criminal responsibility by entering a no contest plea to a felony violation of Penal Code § 32, being an accessory to a felony, to wit, burglary. This result is now counted and weighed as a draw.

<sup>2</sup> A mistrial was declared on January 24, 2019 after the jury announced it would be unable to reach a unanimous verdict. After the mistrial was declared, the jury foreman informed the trial court that the jury was split 11 for guilty to 1. The case was then set for a retrial. On June 10, 2019, the defendant entered a guilty plea to the same felony charge on the morning that jury selection was to begin for the retrial. Accordingly, this result is now counted and weighed as a win.

<sup>3</sup> This defendant was charged going into trial with felony arson of property and felony vandalism of property valued at greater than $400. The jury acquitted the defendant of the two felonies, but instead found her guilty of the lesser crime of misdemeanor unlawful setting of a fire. While a conviction, this trial is nevertheless counted and weighed as a loss.

<sup>4</sup> The verdict returned by the jury was comparable to the plea bargain offered the defendant had he forgone a trial. Accordingly, this result is counted and weighed as a draw.

<sup>5</sup> Two verdicts were returned by the jury – one was guilty of hit-and-run driving, and the other was not guilty of reckless driving. Accordingly, this outcome is counted and weighed as a draw.

<sup>6</sup> The matter will be called again on June 12th for setting a retrial or other disposition.
